Last time I asked for your comments on the new format. Now, because of your questions and suggestions, again there are changes on mail bid #73.

First, to help cover the extra postal and printing expenses, I have increased the amount below which I will not reduce bids from $25 to $30.

Second, I have placed an asterisk before the items that are scanned. Most of the scans are reduced by about 20% - the exception to this are the last two pages which are true size. If you would like a clearer scan in color of an item, let me know, and I will e-mail it to you.

Third, beginning with this mail bid, every lot has a range of what I believe the item should sell for; and I have placed a minimum on every lot that is approximately 75% of the low range number. Many of you have asked for this guidance.

Fourth, a few of you were kind enough to send a few extra dollars to cover postage. Thank you very much for this unsolicited kindness.

Good Luck with Mail Bid #73. I hope you find something you like.

Bob Moffatt
